BRIDE IS DROWNED

Mrs. Roy H. Kuehling Loses Life When Canoe Spouse Paddled Upsets in Potomac

"Because of suspicious circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Gertrude Kuehling, we are holding Kuehling for further investigation," declared Inspector Clifford L. Grant, chief of detectives, at noon today.

Kuehling is now held on a formal charge of deserting from the army should it be found today that this charge does not hold, Kuehling claiming he returned to his company and was honorably discharged while a patient at the Walter Reed Hospital. Inspector Grant will hold him "for investigation."

Mrs. Gertrude Kuehling was drowned in the Potomac River between Chain Bridge and Fletcher's boathouse shortly before 8 o'clock last night when a canoe paddled by her husband, Roy Harper Kuehling, of Woodside, Md., capsized in one of the many treacherous eddies in the upper river. Police were grappling for the body at a late hour last night.

After supper on the shore near Catfish Cove, Kuehling and his wife of eight months decided to paddle as far up the river as Chain bridge before returning to the city. When the frail boat was caught in an eddy and drawn down by the undertow it was not more than 35 feet from the District shore and in sight of Chain bridge.

COAL $5 TON IN NEW ENGLAND

Head of Wholesalers' Association Predicts Lower Prices by December

Bituminous coal that cost $10 to $12 a ton in New England two weeks ago, can now be had as low at $5 a ton, and no one need pay more than $7, according to George H. Cushing, director of the American Wholesale Dealers' Association. He predicts still lower prices by December.

"The situation caused by the priority orers for New England and the Great Lakes territory has developed the most ragged coal market we have known in years. The purchaser in New England and the section served by the Great Lakes has coal brought to his door," said Mr. Cushing.

"In the sections not supplied by the priority orders there is a feeling of anxiety among the dealers, and prices are climbing. The major portion of the coal is going to the priority orders for New England trade prices are governed to a large extent by the amount paid in the New England and Great Lakes sections.

"It was estimated that production of 11,500,000 tons of coal a week from August until December 1 would develop a normal condition. During August the average weekly production was 11,578,000 tons. Continuation of this rate of production will clear the situation."

HUNDREDS BURIED UNDER QUAKE RUINS

Italy's Death List Unknown —Thousands Reported Injured

HOSPITALS CROWDED

Sun Obscured by Blinding Dust—Manly Small Towns Wrecked All Classes Render Aid

Rome, Sept. 9.—Italy is again suffering from an earthquake disaster, the extent of which has not yet been measured. It is known, however, that hundreds of people have been killed and thousands injured.

Many small towns and villages have been wrecked and a though assistance is being hurried from all parts of the country to the afflicted area, there is much suffering for want of food, medicines and shelter for the people.

"Every earthquake disaster is for Italy like a lost battle," said ex-Premier Luzzatti after the Avezzano catastrophe, and this is now repeated in Tuscany. Though not so great, the present disaster recalls the distant tragedy of Messina.

It is not yet possible to calculate how many hundred are dead—the list up to this evening shows close to 400 already reported. There are many bodies under the ruins, and there are wounded also under the ruins who have not yet been reached by the rescuers. There are believed to be many thousands of injured; the hospitals at Spezia have already received about 500 and 300 others have been taken to other hospitals nearby. Improvised hospitals composed of tents are caring for many others—nobody knows how many. The injured and the homeless are thankful at least that the weather keeps fair but at night it is very cold, especially on the mountain slopes.

All classes are combining in their efforts to render aid. Monarchists as well as Republicans, Socialists and Clericals and even anarchists are flocking to the scene of the earthquake from the bigger cities—Spezia, Florence, Luca and Modena.

Admiral Solari, from Spezia, was the first to dispatch medicines, food, bandages and tents. Deputy Chiesa, former Minister of Aviation, was among the first to reach Fivizzano. He was followed by Admiral Solari and Signor Bertini, representing the Government.

Survivors describe the shock as terrifying. The air was filled with choking, blinding dust, so black that the sun was lost to view.

"It seemed like the end of the world," terrified peasants say.

The great towers of mediaeval castles were shaken, partially destroyed, or seemed to be tottering to a fall. The ducal palace at Massa Carrara, which was the summer residence of Napoleon's sister, was seriously damaged.

100 Pay Poll Tax

Women Slow in Coming Forth to Vote—100 Paid Their Capitation Taxes and Registered

Exactly 100 women of this city had paid their capitation taxes and registered up to noon today. City officials now say that it will be a difficult task to estimate the number of women who will qualify for the coming election. The women have until Ocotber 2 in which to register. Many of the women are anxious that the registrars get together and fix upon a certain date for registration. They report that they experience considerable trouble just now in finding some of the registrars at their homes and some on account of this have not registered.

To Ex Service Men

Urge all to Fill Out Questionnaires At Once for Virginia War History

Some months ago Governor Westmoreland Davis called to the executive officers a group of 16 Virginians and entrusted to them the responsibility of collecting and preparing for publication an authentic history of Virginia's part in the World War. This committee has sent questionnaires, to all parts of the state, to be filled out by the ex-service men and women, all Alexandrians who were in the military or naval service during the recent war are urged to co-operate and fill out these papers as promptly as possible. The service records of the men and women of this city stand second to none in the whole state, and if filed now, their valuation in years to come can not be estimated.

Some of our Alexandria men have the distinction of having taken part in the most important battles of the war, two of our men were awarded the Croix de Guerre, three of our women have enviable overseas records, and twenty-six men who entered the service from this city died in line of duty.

Alexandria's splendid war records should certainly be made a part of Virginia's history that is now in preparation.

Questionnaires for this city can be procured at the Chamber of Commerce or from Miss Esther H. Green 123 North Washington street, phone 475.

Teacher Deficit 1,800

Harris Hart, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Says Shortage Less, However

Richmond, Va., Sept. 9.—Although Virginia faces a deficit of 1,800 teachers, there are 1,000 fewer vacancies existing this year in the teaching staff of the public schools than last year, according to Harris Hart, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He believes that the improved conditions are due to the increase in the salaries as a result of a larger appropriation at the last session of the General Assembly.

U. S. WILL NOT FACE FLU THIS YEAR, OFFICIALS SAY

There will be no "flu" epidemic this year, according to the opinions expressed today by Public Health Service officials. It was pointed out that every year there are certain to be some cases of influenza from November to May, but there will not be a recurrence this year of the great "flu" epidemic of 1918.

Public Health Service officials say that after every epidemic the chances of its recurrence scale down materially for twenty to thirty years.

"Of course, there will be some influenza this year, said one official, "and on account of the psychology of the public mind, it will be noticeable, but there will be no epidemic similar to what has gone on before.

According to officials of the Public Health Service, influenza is still as great a mystery as when it was first discovered. Efforts of the greatest physicians to isolate the germ have been unsuccessful and no serum has been discovered that will kill off the germ.

NINE NOW DEAD FROM ALCOHOL

Arsenal Hospital Holds Four More Suffering From Effects

TO TRACE DRINK

Army and Department of Justice Make Thorough Investigation—Coroner Says Alcoholic Poisoning.

Baltimore, Sept. 9.—Nine men are dead and four are ill in the hospital at Edgewood Arsenal from drinking on Monday night a liquid, the principal ingredient of which was said to be wood alcohol.

The United States Department of Justice began an investigation yesterday into the fatalities. Howard M. Boteler, special agent of the department in Baltimore, instituted this inquiry.

At the same time Brig.-Gen. Amos S. Fries, head of the chemical warfare department of the Ordnance Bureau, began an investigation.

Four men died on Monday night and Tuesday. Two others early yesterday morning, one yesterday afternoon and two more last night. Four other men are at the hospital at the arsenal, two of whom are in a serious condition.

The men taken to the hospital drank the concoction at the same time as did those who have died. Although they said they felt slightly sick on Monday, it was not until yesterday afternoon that they began to suffer real pain and suddenly developed the poison symptoms.

The complete list of dead is as follows:

Joseph Langley, 1017 West Barre street, Baltimore.

George Murphy, 341 South Charles street, Baltimore.

William F. Meyer, 300 North Gay street, Baltimore.

Michael O'Leary, 1752 Bank street, Baltimore.

James Davis, Salisbury, Md.

John A. McCuen, Alexandria, Va.

William Richmond, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The four men who are being treated at the hospital are:

Harry Livesay, 892 West Lombard street, Baltimore.

Vernon Pettis, Washington, D. C.

Earl Hayes, Washington, D. C.

John Cargo, Phillipsburg, N. J.

Probe on Two Lines

The Department of Justice investigation will be confined to two questions—whether the poisoned liquor or any other liquor was brought into Edgewood Arsenal area and sold or given to soldiers, in violation of Section 12 of the President's war proclamation forbidding the bringing of any intoxicating liquor within five miles of a military camp, and whether any of the Government supply of alcohol, poisoned or unpoisoned, at Edgewood Arsenal was stolen and given or sold to soldiers.

General Fries, after discussing the case with officers at the cantonment, appointed a committee to make a thorough examination to ascertain just what the liquid contained and where the men obtained it. The committee is composed of Capt. Thomas G. Durant, Capt. Thomas F. McGovern and First Lieut. Bert. D. McGhee. The General said a member of the medical staff at the arsenal will assist the committee in making their investigation.

Thomas E. Stone, head of the Federal prohibition enforcement agency here, said he has made no investigation into the deaths and sickness because he has not been requested to do so.

A FASHION THAT CANNOT LAST

Strange news comes from London. A hat—a woman's hat at that—has been invented to serve for all occasions. It has a flexible brim, two slots in the crown and a broad silk ribbon. Thus it can take a Protean number of shapes, "demure, elaborate or jaunty." No matter what the frock, this hat remains appropriate. The arrangement of the ribbon and the angle of the brim suffices.

All this is very ingenious. Many hats in one—e pluribus unum—is the kind of fad that is bound to secure a temporary popularity. But woman would have to change her nature to be content with one hat, even if it were frequently disguised. One hat is to a woman what the cravat is to a man. It gives the distinctive touch. Economy in gowns is possible, but economy in hats never.

The milliners, too, will have something to say about this new fashion. They would go bankrupt if they could sell no more than one hat a season to their best customers.

A GOOD DEAL OF FREEDOM AFTER ALL

Soon to begin serving his sentence in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, "Big Bill" Haywood, the chief figure in the I. W. W., made no less than four speeches in New York on Labor Day. He defiantly reaffirmed the views that brought him into collision with the government and intimated that if the Nation were at war again he would play the same disloyal part.

Neither he nor his hearers, of course, see anything inconsistent in the charge that freedom of speech is suppressed when a full measure of it is permitted to a convicted criminal even to the extent of allowing him to commit his offense afresh.

M'ADOO ATTACKS LAX DRY LAWS

New York, Sept. 9.—In a statement issued yesterday, from his office, here, William Gibbs McAdoo made a scathing attack upon any leniency in the prohibition amendment.

He declared the amendment will become a dead letter once a beer and light wine law is passed and called upon every man and woman voter "who puts welfare of children and humanity above mere gratification of harmful appetites" to see that Congress does not restore breweries and wineries to "political power" and re-establish "debasing and immoral liquor traffic."

"I know from my experience as Secretary of the Treasury," he said, "that no law which provides for a drink containing a certain percentage of alcohol can be successfully enforced."

MATEWAN TRIALS REMOVED

Detectives in Murder Charge Are Granted Change of Venue

Williamson, W. Va., Sept. 9.—Judge Dempsey yesterday granted a change of venue in the cases of private detectives indicted for murder in connection with the fatal fight between citizens and mine guards at Matewan May 19.

The defendants involved are G. W. Anderson, J. R. Anderson, John McDowell, Oscar Bennett and G. B. Hildebrand.

The jurisdiction to which the cases will be transferred was not indicated.

40,000 AT FAIR CHEER HARDING

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 9.—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for President, was given the biggest reception of his political career when he arrived at the Twin Cities yesterday to make his agricultural speech before 40,000 at the Minnesota State fair.

BRYAN IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 9.—William J. Bryan came into the city silently yesterday, conferred with his publishers and announced his intention of leaving for Washington last night. The Commoner, however, did not call at Democratic national headquarters at the Grand Central Palace.

SPORTS

A meeting of the Destroyer Athletic Club was held last night, when it was voted to launch a membership drive, in the effort to double the present number of members, which is between twenty-five and thirty.

All boys between the ages of 16 and 17 years are invited to join, as the club is planning to have teams in football, basketball and baseball. Football practice will be held tomorrow, Friday, evening at 6 o'clock on the high school grounds and all boys of the above mentioned age are invited to come—whether a number or not be on hand, and join in making the team a strong one.

All arrangements have been made for the big baseball game between the Cardinal Athletic Club and Clarendon Athletic Club teams for the amateur independent baseball championship of Northern Virginia, which will be played in the American League Park, Washington, Saturday, September 11, at 3 p. m. The gates will be opened at 2 p. m.

The game will be an exciting and hard fought battle as both teams are anxious to win. Clarendon will have a great line-up to pit against the Cardinals. The Cardinals are sure to make it interesting for the up-county lads when they meet in the big ball yard, where every baseball player has a chance to prove his worth, without crowding upon the playing field.

The heroes of the world war, now at the Walter Reed General Hospital Takoma Park, D. C., will be the honor guests of the Cardinals, and everything will be done to make them spend a pleasant afternoon.

Clarendon will send a big delegation to root for their favorite sons, while the Cardinals will also have many of their friends on hand to wish them success against their worthy rivals.

RUTH DEFENDANT IN MOVIE CONCERN SUIT

New York, Sept. 9.—George H. "Babe" Ruth was made defendant in a counter suit instituted by Educational Films, Inc., for $250,000 damages. The film company had featured the Yankee slugger in moving pictures and claimed he and two co-defendants had published an advertisement which hurt circulation of the pictures.

Ruth had already instituted suit against the concern, contending the pictures were made without his consent or authority.

NOT SUICIDE, PICKFORD SAYS.

Paris, Sept. 9.—"The rumors that my wife attempted suicide are absurd," said Jack Pickford yesterday. Pickford was nervous during the interview and sought to end it quickly. He refused to explain how his wife, Olive Thomas, moving picture actress, happened to take mercurial tablets. He offered a statement signed by Dr. Joseph Choate, of Los Angeles, which stated:

"Mrs. Pickford, who on account of overwork, has been on the verge of a nervous breakdown; by mistake she took an overdose of medicine prescribed for her condition. She is now under the best of treatment. Hr condition is serious, but her recovery is hoped for."

CROWDS AWAIT U. S. FOOD

Herbert Hoover's Relief Administration Opens Distributing Stations in Berlin

Berlin, Sept. 9.—A branch warehouse of Herbert Hoover's American Relief Administration opened in Berlin today to distribute food packages direct to holders of food drafts in Berlin and vicinity, thus eliminating delays in shipment from Hamburg. An exhibition of sacks of flour, slabs of bacon, condensed milk, etc., fills the shop windows of the downtown building, occupied as a warehouse. Glimpes of great stacks of coveted American food and supplies inside attracted crowds of curious spectators all day, who with noses against the glass, like children at a Christmas shop window, discussed eagerly the glorious possibilities—which proved a better advertisement for American enterprise than all the newspaper publicity devoted there to.

In recent months, the appeal for food was so evident that Hoover representatives decided to install a special night watch and to remove exhibition packages from the windows at night, to prevent enterprising Berliners from obtaining food by direct action instead of the roundabout route of drafts from American friends.

The second branch will be opened at Frankfort next Monday. Others will be established in important cities wherever such a step is justified by the number of incoming food drafts. Germans and their friends in America are far slower to rise to the opportunity than were the Austrians either from pride as Germans assert, or because of more abundant food supplies in Germany. But about sixty thousand packages already have been distributed from Hamburg and shipments now number 35,000 weekly.

SUFF'S POINTED QUERY PUTS JUSTICE TO FLIGHT

Washington, Sept. 9.—Chief Justice White, strolling leisurely along H street, near Lafayette Square, yesterday was accosted by an enthusiastic but innocent suffragist who asked if he thought the woman suffrage amendment had been ratified. Although he is 75 years old and the day was warm, the Chief Justice ran a full block without stopping when he caught the full import of the young woman's question.

If Miss Julia Emery were a man she might go to jail for life for contempt of court.

BODIES OF 6,288 U. S. DEAD ALREADY RETURNED

Washington, Sept. 9.—With the announcement that the bodies of 6,288 American soldiers and sailors who died overseas have been returned to the United States up to date and that the bodies of 2,059 more are aboard transports en route to the United States, the War Department yesterday indicated that the work of removing American bodies outside the actual battle zone is well on its way to completion.

Work of removing bodies from the so-called "zone of the armies" it has already been announced, will not begin until September 15, that date having been agreed on by the French and American Governments. As in the case of the bodies already removed and of those now on the sea on their way home no removals will be made without the receipt of a formal request from the legal next of kin of the deceased.

Already the American dead have been removed from 43 English and Scottish cemeteries, from 29 French cemeteries, outside the zone of the armies and from 20 cemeteries in occupied Germany, the War Department's reports show.

T. E. WATSON IN LEAD

DANGEROUS CONDITION RESULT OF DELAY

When Nature is under strain or affected by some disorder, warning signals are given that should receive prompt attention. If not harkened to, weakness or disease follow, which is ended only by death.

Maybe you don't feel bad enough for medicine now but you soon will if you don't help yourself. If your system didn't need help you wouldn't be troubled with indigestion, liver or stomach troubles, nervousness, sick headaches or other ailments.

These things will not always pass away. The string shortens. What you need is a good tonic now to set you on your feet again. Dr. Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic will soon chase away your complaints and bring back the old "pep." It tones the nerves, stimulates digestion and restores the organs to healthy normal action.

ington Pike, which parallels the railroad, would be begun not later than October 1. It will be recalled that the Chamber of Commerce secured an allocation of $100,000 for this improvement.

A special committee was appointed to confer with Congressman R. Walton Moore and Federal Director of Good Roads Walter Page, to urge the resurfacing of the highway from the long bridge to the bridge at Potomac Yards.

Committees appointed to place guide signs leading into and out of the city reported progress, and it is confidently hoped that some signs south of this city will read "To Alexandria" instead of to the larger nearby cities.

It was the first fall meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Bodies and it gave strong evidence of renewed activities to keep the pace of progress set by the Chamber since its organization.

GIRL, 13 MOVIE STRUCK, STARTS WSET IN LIMOUSINE

Chicago, September 9.—Annunciata Ceaser, 13 years old, became tired of a humdrum existence in the steel town of Gary, Ind., so she took the family savings of $240 and started on her way to Los Angeles to become a moving-picture actress.

She made her way as far as Melrose Park in a limousine. She was driven to the only hotel of the town where she registered as Elinore Phillips, "motion-picture actress." The hotel clerk notified the chief of police of the arrival of the "actress," and after a third degree quiz, she admitted that she had fled from home.

BANDITS FIRE ON DOCTOR IN ATTEMPED HOLD UP

Reading, Pa. Sept. 9.—Three automobile bandits attempted to hold up Dr. Malcolm Z. Gerhart and fired at him twice, both bullets striking the automobile in which he was riding.

The bandits parked their car across the road in order to stop the physician, but he suspected a hold-up and speeded up his automobile. The bandits backed to one side and fired as he passed. Doctor Gerhart believed a hump in the road caused his machine to rise as the bandits fired and saved him from being struck.

New York, Sept. 9.—With a deadlock apparently reached in the strike of Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company employes, more violence was reported today, the twelfth since the walk-out began.

The company has asked for increased police protection.

Reports were received at police headquarters that the body of a man alleged to have been a strikebreaker had been found in Coney Island creek that alleged attempts to short-circuit currents had resulted in several coach es and railroad ties catching fire, and that switches had been pulled near the Brighton Beach elevated terminal in Coney Island. No arrests, however, had been reported.

SLAYING OF NOTT CHARGED TO WADE

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 9.—Elwood B. Wade is charged with the murder of George E. Nott on August 30, in a finding by Coroner John J. Phelan. Mrs. Ethel Hutchins Nott, widow of the murdered man, and John Edward Johnston, are held as accessories to the murder, although not themselves charged with the crime.

Coroner Phelan, in part, says: "In considering the evidence in the case as shown, much of which, is conflicting and unreliable, I am satisfied neither Johnston nor Mrs. Nott actively participated in the actual killing of the deceased, except in law.

"There appears to be no serious doubt, however, that Mrs. Nott aided and abetted Wade in endeavoring to suppress, conceal and obliterate the evidences of the murder by assisting in the washing away of the blood stains and placing of the body in the trunk and her false statements to inquirers as to the whereabouts of her husband."

POLISH-RUSSIAN PARLEY DEFERRED

Warsaw, Sept. 9.—Russo-Polish peace negotiations, which were to have been renewed at Riga this week, have been deferred. Departure of the Polish envoys for Riga to resume the negotiations, which were broken off at Minsk, has been postponed for several days, it was announced today.

There have been a number of developments to hinder a continuation of the peace parley, They include:

1. Possibility of military co-operation against the reds by the Polish and General Wrangel's forces.
2. The Polish conflict in Lithuania.
4. Divergence of opinion as to the future policy which shall be adopted toward Soviet Russia.

RARE FOSSIL OF WHALE ON CLIFFS OF OREGON

Eugene, Ore., Sept. 9.—A rare fossil, that of a mioscene whale, has been found by Dr. Earl L. Packard, professor of geology at the University of Oregon here.

The relic of prehistoric times, which was found in the cliffs along the beach at Newport, Oregon, is, Dr. Packard believes, the finest specimen of fossil whale yet found in North America. Such petrified skeletons are very rare and the extreme age of the recent find makes it of particular interest to scientific men. Only the skull of the creature has been exhumed from its rocky bed and Dr. Packard is now preparing it for addition to the Condon Geological Museum of the University of Oregon.

The bones are rather small, indicating that the leviathan was young or, which is more probable that the leviathans of the mioscene age was markedly smaller than those of the present day.

Unless Congress awoke to the paramount importance of postal employes' salary increase, he said, the entire system would be endangered, not becaus of unfaithfulness, but because private owned utiltities were taking the men at hivhr pay.

SALE OF STILLS CHECKED

Washington, Sept. 9.—In an effort to end illicit distilling of intoxicating liquor, the Treasury Department decided yesterday to tighten regulations around the sale of stills and add another check to its means of tracing down their users.

Manufacturers of stills are required by the new regulation to report all sales, the names of purchasers and locations where the stills are to be set up. Names of manufacturers must be securely attached to the articles sold and sworn statements must be obtained from purchasers setting forth the purposes for which stills are to be used.

Until the manufacturer has complied with the new regulations he is not permitted to allow the still to leave his wareroom. Such sales cannot be finally consummated until a permit or certificate has been granted by the local internal revenue authorities.

FAMILY JARS NOT ALL CAUSED BY LIQUOR

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Prohibition hasn't helped family life in Chicago. In the year ending July 1 there were 6000 divorces granted. This is the largest number ever granted in a year and ten highest percentage compared to marriages. There were 37,863 marriages.

If the present pace is not slackened one out of six of these will end in a divorce court.

In 357 divorce suits filed during a recent year only 70 of the plaintiffs owned homes. Among the couples more than 60 per cent were childless.

Boarding house life lacks incentive to save; wives unsuited for the home; money wasted at cabarets, husbands who receive only a pretty face, are some of the causes given by social workers.

terday afternoon, General Fries said he expects the committee will complete its investigation today and will have a complete report in his office before midnight. He promised to make the report public as soon as he receives it.

He said, however, that from what he was told at the arsenal by Lieut. Col. Frank Thomas Woodbury, chief medical officer; Maj. Henry O. Gartner, acting commandant and Capt. Roy A. Hungerford, executive officer, he is of the opinion that wood alcohol was responsible for the deaths. He said from what he was told by those officers, he is inclined to the belief that the liquid consumed was brought from the outside.

The General did admit that it was possible that the men could have obtained wood alcohol from one of the two tanks in the arsenal that contain about 10,000 gallons of the liquid He said it is also possible that they could have taken and consumed some of the grain alcohol stored there. The latter was rendered dangerous, according to arsenal officials, by chloracetochenone, an ingredient of poison mustard gas.

The men in the arsenal were told, General Fries said, that the liquid was deadly poisonous to prevent their taking it for drinking. There was sufficient poison in the alcohol to nauseate anyone who drank it, but not enough to cause fatal results, he said Lieutenant-Colonel Woodbury had told him.

Although the military inquiry did not establish the source from which the liquor was obtained, General Fries said officers at the arsenal doubt strongly that the deaths resulted from drinking either wood or grain alcohol stored in the arsenal.

Tanks Appear Intact

General Fries said he was told by officers that while it is impossible to judge from contents of the alcohol tanks, whether any of the two liquids were taken out recently, an investigation showed that none of the caps on the manholes leading to the tanks had been tampered with. Officers also said that neither had holes been drilled into the tanks as had been done on other occasions by men who stole grain alcohol.

Officers, during the conference with General Fries, said that about two months ago, when meals were first detelted, an electrically charged wire was placed about the wood and grain alcohol tanks, after which Major Earl J. Atkisson, the commandant, with the permission of General Fries, placed the chloracetochenone in the grain alcohol tank. The officers said about one month ago, while the wires were kept in position the electric charge was cut off. The wires yesterday were found to have been cut recently, so that an entrance might be made through them. Captain Hungerford said he had ordered a passageway cut through the wires so that one of his men might get to the tanks to inspect them.

At this point in the conference, in the presence of newspaper men, General Fries said that the placing of the wires about the tanks and the announcement of the "deadly poison" in the grain alcohol, probably advertised the presence of the alcohol to the men in the arsenal. He said that probably the safeguards caused the more adventurous to "take a chance in stealing contents of the tanks, just to show the authorities they could beat them."

Talked of Buying Liquor

The reticence of any of the men regarding where they obtained the liquor hindered the investigation, the army officers said. Colonel Woodbury said that Nelson, when he was first brought into the hospital told an orderly that "it was a damned shame that he had to pay $20 a pint for the liquor, only to have to come here to have it pumped out." He said at least two of the other men talked of having paid $20 a pint or $20 a quart for the liquor.

Colonel Woodbury said the first real clue as to where the men obtained the liquor came last night, when Vernon Pettis was taken to the hospital. Pettis said that McCuen, who had been to the races at Timonium Monday afternoon, gave him a drink out of a pint bottle that he brought back to the arsenal. Pettis said all the men who died and those now sick drank from the same bottle. The authorities earlier in the day said that they had received positive information that McCuen and Meyers had been at Timonium on Monday, and they said they are of the opinion that Richmond accompanied them. The other men who died and those who are sick are thought to have been at the arsenal all day Monday.

General Fries said that two bottles containing small amounts of liquor were found in the room in which it is alleged the men "held a party" late Monday night. One of the bottles was of a pint size, while the other held a quart. A chemical examination of the contents of the pint bottle showed it contained mostly wood alcohol and an unknown ingredient, according to the statement of officers, while the quart bottle contained a "home brew" made up of vinegar, evaporated peaches, yeast and a small quantity of wood alcohol. Anderson, who died last night, when first taken to the hospital yesterday morning, after being found unconscious under a tree, said the men flavored the contents of the bottle with lemon extract

A jury summoned by Coroner Lewis, of Edgewood, to investigate the deaths of the first seven men, found that the deaths were due to wood alcohol poisoning. The jurymen based their opinion on the statement of Lieutenant-Colonel Woodbury. He testified that the men who died showed every symptom of wood alcohol poisoning. He said they all suffered from delirium, had floating visions and that at least four became blind before lapsing into unconsciousness and that all died of paralysis of the respiratory muscles. He said that while he did not know exactly what condition would have been brought about if the men had consumed grain alcohol doctored with chloracetochenone, he is of the opinion that such a poison would only nauseate them.

The pint bottle found in the room contained two labels. The label next to the glass showed that the bottle originally contained Pikesville whisky Over that label was pasted another containing the following inscription: "Prescription from Dr. Winner. Drink wineglassful before retiring. July 9, 1920."

Dr. Jacob L. Winner, 30 South Broadway, the only physician by that name in Baltimore, said last night he had given prescriptions for whisky to Joseph Langley, 1017 West Barre street, one of the first who died from the poisoning. Langley, Dr. Winner said, had been coming to him every 10 days for prescriptions for whisky, complaining of colds and chills and fever, the last visit being made last Sunday. He did not remember if he had given the man a prescription on July 9, but supposed he had.

The fact that the men had consumed the liquid was first brought to the attention of the officers Monday night when a civilian employe called Lieutenant-Colonel Woodbury and asked him to send the ambulance for McCuen, who was sick. When the ambulance arrived at the barrack in which the civilians lived McCuen and Richmond were unconscious. Both died without regaining consciousness.

"CAT AND MOUSE" POLICY FOR HUNGER STRIKERS

London, Sept. 9.—An inspired statement issued today indicates that Premier Lloyd George is willing to accept guarantees from Sinn Feinn headquarters that police murders will cease and that he does not require a personal guarantee from Lord Mayor MacSwiney.

If such guarantee is forthcoming, it is set forth in the statement, MacSwiney and the hunger strikers in Cork jail would be released and held as virtual hostages. If the murders were resumed they again would be sent to jail, thus, in effect, reverting to what was called the "cat and mouse" policy adopted in the case of the suffragette hunger strikers.

It is an interesting question whether the Sinn Feiners are prepared to give such an asurance as to satisfy this requirement. Up to the present they have insisted upon unconditional release.

ST. MARY'S BAND GOES ON "BABE RUTH" TOUR

Baltimore, Sept. 9.—Blowing bravely for Babe Ruth and St. Mary's Industrial School, the St. Mary's School Band last night paraded to Union Station and left on its tour with Babe Ruth and the New York Yankees, confident of bringing home a big sum for the two million dollar rebuilding fund of the school.

MAIL FLYER ENDS FIRST LAP OF JOURNEY

Chicago, Sept. 9.—The first lap in the transcontinental aerial mail service was completed tonight with the landing in Iowa City of Rudolph G. Page, who left Mineola, N. Y., at 6.30 o'clock this morning after stops at Bellefonte, Pa., Cleveland and at Maywood Landing Field, Chicago. He took on a supply of gas at Cleveland, and changed machines at Chicago. It has been planned to remain in Omaha for the night, but darkness forced the aviator down in Iowa City. The flight will be resumed at 5.30 A. M. tomorrow.

Cleveland was the next stop after Bellefonte, Pa., where he landed at 8.59 A. M., and resumed his flight at 10.05 A. M. He reported slow progress owing to a heavy wind, his actual flying time from Mineola to Cleveland being 5 hours and 59 minutes. After taking off at Cleveland at 1.17 P. M., he reached Maywood at 4.45 p. m. He had covered the distance from Mineola to Maywood in a little more than ten hours. His plane carried 400 pounds of mail.

ESCH LOSES FIGHT IN WIS. PRIMARY

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 9.—Representative John J. Esch, of La Grosse co-author with Senator A. B. Cummins, of Iowa, of the recently enacted Railroad bill, was defeated for renomination from the Seventh district, according to returns compiled last night by the Milwaukee Journal from yesterday's Statewide primary. His victorious opponent was Joseph E. Beck of Viroqua, who was supported by Senator Robert M. La Follette.

Cox Flays Harding

Declares G. O. P. Candidate Has Switched Eight Times on League

Great Falls, Mont., Sept. 9.—A new assault upon the international policies of Senator Harding, Republican presidential candidate, was made here tonight by Governor Cox, of Ohio, his Democratic opponent, in the latter's Montana campaign. Governor Cox declared Senator Harding had taken eight different positions.

At a public gathering here last night, the Governor demanded a definite statement from Senator Harding and suggested that the Republican candidate referee a league of nations debate between Senator Johnson, of California, and former President Taft.

"The campaign, even though we are more or less in the preliminaries" said Governor Cox, "has reached a stage when we should take count of the situation. It would seem fitting to direct the nation's thought to this outstanding thing the changing, vacillating, inconsistent attitude of the senatorial candidate for the presidency on international questions.

Senator Harding's positions have been as follows:

"1. In the Senate, voted with mild reservationists.

"2. In the Senate, advocated and voted for the Lodge reservations.

"3. In the Senate, supported the Knox resolution for a separate peace with Germany.

"4. Nominated on a platform which declared the league of nations has signally failed."

"5. Speech of acceptance proposed separate peace with Germany and new relationship of nations to be established by him and the scrapping of the league.

"6. August 28th speech, an entirely new plan—the resurrection of the dead Hague tribunal under which occurred the Russo-Japanese, the Boer, the Balkan and the great world war.

"7. Speech of September 6—'the league has now passed beyond the possibility of restoration.'

"8. Same speech (September 6th) Amendment or revision or reconstruction of the league covenant is still among the possibilities.'

"It will be seen, therefore, that eight different proposals have been made by a candidate for the constitutional position of President, the officer who, in a large measure, initiates the international policies of this republic.

"Let us not forget in this connection that Republicans of all shades of opinion on this subject have visited Marion and without exception whether the guest favored the league or opposed the league, he invariably reported to the press that he indorsed Senator Harding's position as stated to him in conferences. All this would be laughable if it were not so tragic.

Fredericksburg—The Goshen Baptist association yesterday held its annual convention at Antioch Church, in Orange county for a three days session. The association comprises 47 churches located in six counties. Reports of the foreign mission, home mission, State and education boards were discussed. Rev. E. V. Peyton, of Shenandoahville, preached the doctrinal sermon. Capt. C. T. Smith, of Caroline, for 22 years the moderator, opened the session.

Fredericksburg—Fitzhugh Conway of Corbin's, Caroline county, in looking over old family papers found two books, which were printed in 1776. The title of one is "Regulations for Order and Discipline of the Troops of the United States" and bore the inscription in ink of the names of Thomas Minor, May 26, 1787 and James Minor, June 9, 1811. The book was printed in 1776. The other book was a Prayer Book for the camp. Although many years old the books are well preserved and legible.

Danville—Last night Jerome Isaacs, of Baltimore, was forlorn and friendless—a prisoner in the city jail awaiting trial for grand larceny. Today he became a person of note. Friends from every side flocked to the rescue. Bail set at $1,000 quickly was raised. One of the leading members of the Danville bar was retained in his defense. He became the hero of the city. The transformation took place when Isaacs showed a letter signed by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, assuring him of a square deal and giving evidence of interest in his case. It developed that he was one of the military guards which attended President Wilson while in France.

LOSE THEIR KICK

Substitution of Glycerin For Alcohol Makes Thirsty Sad

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Lemon and vanilla extracts are to be made kickless. No longer will it be possible to get around the eighteenth amendment by mixing a vanilla extract cocktail and acquiring a perfumed jag. The American Chemical Society, which is holding its sixtieth annual convention at the Congress Hotel, has found a way to remove this temptation.

Dr. M. De Grote, of the University of Pittsburgh, told about it in an address today on "Glycerin substitute for alcohol in flavoring extracts."

"I hope I am not disappointing any members of the society present" said Dr. De Grote. "When I observe that by substituting glycerin for alcohol, we got not only a better extract, but a cheaper one. "I am fully aware that since the passage of the prohibition amendment, many good tipplers have sought inspiration in the vanilla extract bottle. The high percentage of alcohol contained in flavoring extracts has made them a convenient if dangerous substitute for whisky. While some will deplore this discovery, and possibly not approve of the glycerin content, they will have to yield to the advance of chemical science."

JUDGE LETS WOMAN CHEW

"If She May Vote, Why Not?" He Asks, Dismissing Complaint

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 9.—A woman asked W. H. Scott, a policeman how to reach an address last night. Scott told her.

"Thanks" said the woman, and reaching into a pocket of her coat took out a plug of tobacco and bit off a chew. Scott arrested her on a charge of disturging the peace. In municipal court today Judge John M. Kennedy dismissed the case.

"If women may vote, why shouldn't they chew?" inquired the judge.

WILSON NAMES OCTOBER 9 AS FIRE PREVENION DAY

Washington, Sept. 8.—In order to call attention to the dangers from fires in the United States and with the hope that greater individual and collective efforts will eb made to prevent them, President Wilson today issued a proclamation fixing October 9 as "Fire Prevention Day." This occasion, it is suggested in the proclamation, should be employed in exercises to bring home to the people the present fire waste.

The popular verdict of the big audiences throughout the country which have greeted Elsie Ferguson's latest Paramount Artcraft picture, "His House in Order" at the Richmond Theatre today, is that it is well worth while. Bert Lytell, the popular Metro star, will be seen at the Ingomar Theatre today in "The Lion's Den" the second Saturday Evening Post story from the pen of Frederick Orin Bartlett to be used as a screen play for Mr. Lytell.

The story is that of a young clergyman who desires to build a club for the boys of his parish and keep them from the evils of the street. Not meeting with the financial support of the wealthy members of the community, he determines to enter the "Lion's den of commerce", and earn the money himself.

It is a remarkable story played by a star who knows the road to the hearts of his audience.

FRANCE FEARS $2 BEEF STEAK

Paris, Sept. 9.—Parisians will be taxed next spring by meat prices which will recall the market quotations in the Klondike during the gold rush, if the cheerful prediction, made today by the Paris city councilor, Emile Desvaux, who has been investigating the situation, comes true.

M. Desvaux fears he errs on the side of the optimist in prophesying that the cost of a pound of beefsteak in a few months will amount to 10 francs, which, under normal rates of exchange, is $2.

The high price of forage and the scarcity of stock are the reasons he assigns for the rise in prices. He fears the high meat prices may cause the peasants to put the grain land in pasture for stock and thus in turn make bread dearer.

WOMAN FAILS TO GET VOTE

Must Live in Virginia Two Years Even if Capitation Tax is Paid

Richmond, Va., Sept. 9.—Women who have not lived in the State two years will be ineligible to vote, despite the fact that their capitation taxes are paid, according to State Auditor C. Lee Moore, who thus concluded today in a case that was brought to his attention.

A woman guest of a hotel here paid the capitation tax this morning for one year, but when she appeared before central Registrar William S. Woodson for registration she was told she was not eligible, as she had not lived in Virginia two years, as required before the State constitution She sought a refund of her money but Auditor Moore had already written a letter directing that where taxes are once paid and entered, they cannot be refunded by the local assessment or collecting officers.
